Readership:

Researchers in hydrology, irrigation, soils and agricultural economics. Will also appeal to decision makers in agricultural groundwater use as well as water and development in general.

Description:

While addressing the issues of using groundwater in agriculture for irrigation in the developing world, this book discusses the problems associated with the degradation and overexploitation of using it. It explores the practiced and potential methods for its management in the context of agricultural development.

Contents:

- The Agricultural Groundwater Revolution: Setting the stage, M F Giordano and K G Villholth
- The Groundwater Economy of South Asia: An assessment of size, significance and socio-ecological impacts, T Shah, IWMI-TATA Water Policy Program, India
- The Development, Challenges and Management of Groundwater in Rural China, J Wang and J Huang both at Centre for Chinese Agriculture Policy, Beijing, China, A Blanke, Q Huang, and S Rozelle, all at University of Califonia, USA
- Rural economic transitions: groundwater use in the Middle East and its environmental consequences, T Allan, Kings College London & SOAS University of London, UK
- Sub-Saharan Africa: Opportunistic Exploitation, M Masiyandima, International Water Management Institute, Pretoria, South Africa and M Giordano
- Groundwater in Central America: Its Importance, Development and Use, with Particular Reference to its Role in Irrigated Agriculture, M Ballester, V Reyes and Y Astorga, all at GWP-CA, Costa Rica
- Community Management of Groundwater, E Schlager, University of Arizona, USA
- Instruments and Institutions for Groundwater Management, K Kemper, World Bank (Water resource Mangement Group), Washington, USA
- When the Well Runs Dry but Livelihoods Continue: Adaptive Responses to Groundwater Depletion and Strategies for Mitigating the Associated Impacts, M Moench, ISEY,
- Colarado, USA
- Community Management of Groundwater, E Schlager, University of Arizona, USA

Readership: Professionals, researchers and students in water management, irrigation, drainage, soils and agricultural engineering

Description:

This book draws together the growing body of knowledge on irrigation and drainage performance assessment that has been gained over the last twenty years.

"This concise book represents a comprehensive source of recent information on the assessment of irrigation and drainage performance, a subject of immense importance as the world's water supplies for new irrigation schemes become increasingly scarce and existing schemes are threatened by managerial difficulties and degradation processes". Brennan D Soane, Experimental Agriculture, 42, 2006
