Problems and Solutions for the Management of Water and Wastewater

The European Water and Wastewater Management Conference is one of the few events in the UK that deals specifically with problems and solutions for the management and treatment of water and wastewater.

With the rapid depletion of many essential resources and with an increase in water stress, a NEW approach is emerging that views wastewater as a valuable source of Nutrient, Energy and Water.

Sustainability and GHG reduction	Nutrient and Water Factories	Innovation and Process Control	Easing Water Stress	Smart Water Networks Forum
Assessing the impact of our existing facilities and enhancing sustainability through targeted design and recycling opportunities.	Recovering the nutrients from wastewater through design, process innovation and supply chain collaboration.	New technologies delivering improved performance, reduced energy and lower operating costs.	Alternative sources of water supply ranging from treated effluent, to harvested rainwater, all contribute to alleviating our current water stress.	Discuss the current state of smart water network technologies and concrete action for making water networks more efficient and sustainable through the use of data-driven technologies

Now in it's fifth year, the conference aims to provide a discussion forum that brings together experts and practitioners from the industry to share experiences, discuss best practice and review innovations that might potentially make a major impact.
